Subject: Get To Work

Good Morning and Welcome Aboard,

Congratulations and welcome to Minions Galactic. I understand you are contract hires who are here to help us get up and moving but I like to think of everyone as family. You probably already know, most of the staff supporting our Earth expansion are long time Minions Galactic employees who live and work from Galactic Rim. Newly hired staff who will eventually work out of the CA building are currently in the Rim for training and orientation. I certainly understand supporting users remotely is tough but I have been assured your team has the necessary experience and skills. Jean, our CIO, is a great guy and very supportive leader even if he comes across as curt and unfriendly.

I've been told that the following credentials may help you access the competition systems...

Username: root/administrator

Password: StealTheM00n!

Don't hesitate to contact him if you have any questions or concerns. Just be sure you have prepared your case and done your homework. God's speed and good luck.

Thank you.
