Subject: Plan for system hardening

Team,

It seems we have cut a lucky break. The networking gurus are still making final configurations to the network and most public traffic is being blocked. Our internal users are still depending on system availability but we have 45 minutes of breathing room before any malicious activity. Please prepare a 1 page summary report detailing the actions you are taking to harden our environment. This report is required for justification of the extra expense (i.e. your consulting fees) and will be going to upper management. Please take the time to make it look professional.

Thank you.
